8000 Series - Billing and Practice Management

Excelling in the areas of computer hardware, customer satisfaction, and software expertise can be difficult and demanding. That is why Forté Systems has developed a reseller program that will put your mind at ease when dealing with the software side of things. Forté Systems has developed four different levels of software, each one designed specifically to meet the needs of those affiliated with the healthcare industry and their clinics. In addition, the software has been engineered on a specialty basis. Simply put, no longer do you need to sell a doctor a general medical package. With products designed with specific specialties in mind, the product is easier to sell as certain areas of the program have been tailored to fit the demands of unique healthcare professions.

One of the most appealing things about Forté Systems is that when a client upgrades in level, all of the features of the previous level(s) are included. If a clinic's main focus is billing, financial aspects, and organized patient information, then the 'T' Level package will be the most beneficial. Those who are interested in increased patient volume can rely on the 'S' Level of the software, as the user can run searches, generate newsletters, lists, and emails. The first level of practice management is included with the Plus Level of the software. In this level, such features as appointment scheduling, assignment of practice tasks, and note taking have all been designed with simplicity in mind. The Plus Level software is Forté Systems best selling software package.

Our Ultra Level software is by far our most sophisticated piece of technology. With the Ultra software, various features have been brought to the next level providing the user with a top of the line program. Finances, schedules, and clinic progress are accessible through the click of a button. The program can run from the main office or a distant location with remote access capability. Larger sized practices can store information for up to 100 doctors, and multiple clinics can operate the program, provided each office has their own account. Training can be handled through our easy to use audio and visual training tutorials which are included with the Ultra Level package.

In addition, rest assured our adherence to industry standards. All of our software is 100% HIPAA compliant. Look for yourself and see why every clinic should be using Forté Systems.

eTimeClock - Attendance and Payroll Software

Just as our company has expanded, so has our software. Forté Systems has developed a timeclock product line that is targeted towards any business that is looking to track employee attendance and or payroll. Five different levels of timeclock software have been developed with all types of businesses in mind. Smaller sized companies to large corporations can choose from one of our uniquely designed timeclock packages to meet their needs. Each package is designed insuring strict security features. Our Basic, Plus, and Pro levels of the timeclock allow for the tracking of attendance, benefits in the areas of sick/vacation/break time, payroll, and project management. Regular work hours are calculated and deduction capabilities insure for a solid program. An easy to use Message Center has been added to the timeclock program, enabling employees to easily communicate any messages to their employers.

Other areas of the program include Employee Notes, allowing the employer to store employee information. Expanded deduction capabilities, alert pop ups for missed punches, and schedule creators can be found in the more advanced levels of the timeclock product line. Our corporate level of the timeclock will include all of the features of the lower levels, and will allow for expanded network capabilities. Perfect for larger sized businesses or corporations.

Inquire about our internet edition of the timeclock, as it will allow employees to punch in from various locations, via the internet. This is perfect for employees who spend much of their time traveling, or working from home. All punches are saved and recorded at the main office, and this level includes all Pro level features.

These affordable, well designed programs are perfect for any size and shape business. We feel you will find this unique software a welcome compliment to your repertoire of products and services.
